A GLIMPSE INTO STAKEHOLDERS' WEEKEND

It was a pleasure to host our stakeholder guests over the past few days in Jaipur.

An immersive experience was curated for these esteemed guests from various parts of the globe, who visited the Crafts Women Producer Company office in Surajpol, one of the project sites of the Royal Rajasthan Foundation.

Key activities during the visit:

- Women-driven 'Pink City Rickshaws' were organised for the guests to and from the bus stop & the project location
- The guests were welcomed by the board members of the producer company (beneficiaries of the project) with a tilak & a rose after which they assembled in a hall along with other women beneficiaries. After a welcome note from project leaders explaining the nuances of the projects, the guests got to experience how stitching, embroidery & lac bangle-making is done & interacted with the women to understand their journey of attaining a steady livelihood through the skill development project of the foundation.
